

WHERE DID THE MONEY COME FROM?

Conservative Provincial Organizer Tendered Mr Maloney of St Albert $1000 if He Would Stand For Election in that Constituency—Side Light on Mr Bennett's Campaign

"I met Mr. W. L. Walsh, of Calgary, President of the Conservative Provincial Association of Alberta, on the street within the last five minutes, as you saw. After a few words on general matters he said the party wanted to bring out a candidate in the Conservative interests, and said they would pay all the costs. He produced twenty crisp $50 bills and asked me to take them and allow my name to be placed in nomination. He had the nomination papers all ready with signatures attached and wanted me to sign it. I declined his offer, and he may go back home."

These were the words of Mr. Danforth Maloney, of St. Albert, the well known ex-member of the Legislative Assembly for that constituency, addressed to fifteen or twenty gentlemen in St. Albert on Tuesday last, after Mr. W. L. Walsh, the president of the Provincial Conservative Association, had stopped him on the street, and had a conversation with him on political questions.

Mr. Maloney is a well-known Conservative, a former member of the Territorial Assembly, a man of repute, and in addition to this, the circumstances amply substantiate his statements.

This statement of Mr. Maloney throws a flood of light on the purpose and the nature of the trip of Mr. Walsh up the C. & E. line on the day preceding nominations and explains his presence in St. Albert on the morning of nomination day.

Several days previously the Conservative candidate in Wetaskiwin had sized up the situation, concluded that his chances were nil, and decided to not allow his name to go before the electors.

In Strathcona, the home constituency of the Premier, the hopelessness of opposition had been recognized and openly admitted by leading Conservatives to such extent that no one had been suggested as even a possible opponent.

In the St. Albert constituency the opposing candidate was Liberals and while it was not considered at all probable that the seat could be captured there was always the off chance that a Conservative might be elected if the Liberal vote was divided in this manner.

To allow Wetaskiwin and Strathcona to go by acclamation and St. Albert by default, with the constituencies of Peace River and Athabasca in which no Conservative candidates had been suggested, would have given the Government five seats in twenty-five at the start, a lead which would have had a most depressing effect on the opposition cause elsewhere throughout the Province and would have assured the return of the Government by a substantial working majority.

This could not be allowed and the Provincial Organizer was deputed to rouse the waning courage of the party in the constituencies of Wetaskiwin and Strathcona and if possible to spring a candidate into the St. Albert contest at the last moment. Mr. Walsh accordingly made a trip up the C. & E. on Monday.

At Wetaskiwin he succeeded in infusing something either of courage or self-sacrifice, into a member of the party and he is now an aspirant for Parliamentary honors. Commenting on the deal the Times says:

"It will come as quite a surprise to the electors of the Wetaskiwin district to learn that an election is to take place in this constituency. It was generally thought that Mr. A. S. Rosenroth, the Liberal candidate, would be elected by acclamation, he being the only candidate in the field, but at the last moment another person has been brought into the arena."

"On Monday Mr. W. L. Walsh, the Conservative organizer, arrived in town, and a few minutes afterwards it was arranged that Mr. R. M. Angus should offer himself up as a sacrifice for the party. The plan that was offered to Mr. Angus must have been very tempting to induce him to come forward into the campaign at the last moment without the least chance of winning."

At Strathcona Mr. Walsh sprung another surprise even upon the local Conservatives and probably on the gentleman himself by persuading

Dr. Crang to allow himself to be nominated against Mr. Rutherford. The Plaindealer puts it in this way:

"It was the unexpected that happened when Dr. F. W. Crang was placed in nomination by the Conservatives to oppose Premier Rutherford's candidature in the Strathcona electoral district. Several of the Conservative leaders had expressed themselves publicly as in full sympathy with Mr. Rutherford's appointment to the premiership and had even suggested that a public banquet should be tendered him, party politics being laid aside on account of the universal esteem in which he is held by the people of the district. Indeed, but for the sharp criticism of the Conservative whip just before nomination day, about the lower limbs, the gentlemen who were responsible for the Tory campaign in this riding Mr. Rutherford would have been elected by acclamation and the Conservatives of the district would have been as happy as the Liberals in doing him honor. In fact we are inclined to believe that a large number of Conservatives will take advantage of the unexpected opportunity of recording their votes for the Premier, more in protest against the useless contest than because they consider their ballots will be necessary for his election."

"It is unfortunate that a few of our Conservative friends should have allowed themselves to be badgered into so hopeless a struggle on this occasion. It is doubtless to keep up the reputation of the old war horses that for so many years sat on the throne of power at Ottawa that our friend the Doctor was led forth and laid upon the altar having first been relieved of his pocket money to the extent of the deposit $100 in lawful money of Canada."

On Tuesday the organizer was astir early and headed for St. Albert, where he made the proposition publicly announced by Mr. Maloney in the above quotation.

The St. Albert incident raises the question of the means employed in Wetaskiwin and Strathcona. Were "crisp $50 bills" produced there also to secure candidates and discharge the election expenses? IS THIS METHOD BEING EMPLOYED GENERALLY THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE to stiffen the weak knees and cheer the drooping spirits of the Bennetts?

If so WHERE DID THE MONEY COME FROM? There are twenty-five constituencies in Alberta. Are the expenses of all the Opposition candidates up to $1,000 being borne by the Central Conservative Association? If so the amount under this head alone totals up to $25,000. From what source could such a stupendous sum be secured for such purposes?

Would such sum be subscribed by the members of the Central Association? The Conservative party contains many wealthy members: who are doubtless willing to contribute to the legitimate expenses of their local candidates. But are these gentlemen putting up $1,000 for the expenses of each Opposition candidate in Alberta, in a provincial contest? Not this season.

WHENCE ELSE COULD THE MONEY COME BUT FROM A CORPORATION VITALLY AND ACTIVELY INTERESTED IN THE ELECTION OF MR. BENNETT AND HIS SUPPORTERS? Is Mr. Bennett connected with a corporation which has heretofore shown a disposition to mix in political matters? Is that corporation wealthy enough to provide this enormous sum? And is this corporation interested in the election of Mr. Bennett?

No candid man in Alberta can give other than a positive answer to these queries. Mr. Bennett is the solicitor of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company: the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has not in the past failed to cast its bread upon the waters when there was promise of a satisfactory return; in the land and railway policies proposed by Mr. Bennett is ample room for such return and the election of Mr. Bennett would be a blow at the credit of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway the construction of which threatens to break up the C.P.R. monopoly in the West.

NOT INDEPENDENTS CONSERVATIVES IN DISGUISE

Conservative Provincial Organizer Officially Announces that the "Independent" Candidates are Conservatives

Mr. Walsh, the Provincial organizer for the Conservatives in an interview with the Calgary Herald finally dispensed of the "independent" pretensions of some of the Conservative candidates in Alberta. According to his story Mr. Knight, "independent" candidate in Sturgeon, Mr. Fane, "independent" candidate in Vermilion and Mr. Woodhammer "independent" candidate in Stony Plain, are all Conservatives in disguise and are running as such. Even Mr. Dubuc we are told was to have been the Conservative candidate in Peace River and Mr. Brick in Athabasca. Mr. Walsh says:

"I notice," said Mr. Walsh, "that the Alberta reduces the number of seats in which there is no Conservative candidate from seven to three. You will remember how it has been boasting all along that in seven out of the twenty-five seats we would have no candidate, and that for this reason it was all over out the shouting. Now it comes down to three, and even in that statement it is wrong. The only place in which it can accurately be said that there is no Conservative candidate running is St. Albert, and to those who know the local situation the reason for this is not very far too seek."

"I don't know, and neither does the Alberta, whether there is a Conservative running in Peace River and in Athabasca or not. No one except those on the ground knows whether nominations were held there yesterday, and if so, who the candidates are. The returning officers left Edmonton on the 19th with the writs and election paraphernalia. Arrangements were made beforehand for relays of horses to take them through, and it was hoped that by travelling night and day they might reach the constituencies in time, barring accident. Whether they did or not, no one except those on the spot knows, nor will anyone know for another ten days. A Conservative was ready to place to take the field if he knew of the date and place of nomination. Mr. Brick was our man in Peace River but the other man's name I have forgotten. There is a possibility that these men would know nothing of the matter until the nominations were over. Mr. Dubuc was ready to be our candidate when I saw him six weeks ago, but is now, I believe, the government candidate. Mr. Edmonson on the day that the returning officer did and overtook him and travelled with him to the nomination, so that he, of course, would be sure to be on the spot. Further than that, nobody knows. If the Alberta returns the writs, less process received word that in this smart way the Conservatives have not been able to be nominated, then its statement that in three seats no Conservative is running, is true. Otherwise it can't know anything about it and is simply bluffing when it makes the assertion, letting itself down easy from its boast of seven uncontested seats."

"How do the other northern seats look?"

"Better than I had hoped for," was the reply. "In Lacombe, Ponoka, Leduc, Strathcona and Vermilion our friends are putting up a magnificent fight. They are confident of winning in each of these places."

"In Strathcona and Wetaskiwin our candidates took the field at a late hour, and these constituencies are very strong for us so that it is too much to expect victory for them, but a vigorous fight has been started in both places, and will be kept up to the end, and, as you know, the unexpected sometimes happens in elections. In Stony Plain our candidate, Woodhammer, is a strong man whose prospects of success are represented to me as being excellent."

This finally clears the air and the electors of Sturgeon, Vermilion and Stony Plain may understand that in voting for the so-called "independent" candidates they would be voting for the defeat of the Rutherford Government and the elevation of "corruption-connected" Bennett, his friends and allies.

AN ELECTOR'S OPINION

Strathcona, Nov. 4, 1965.

I would be pleased as a citizen of Strathcona to have space in your daily edition to giving my opinion after mature deliberation on the current political questions of the day. The Liberals in this political contest are led by the Hon. Mr. Rutherford who solicits the support of his constituents that he will give this province an honest and economical Government and who says he finds the allowance given this province sufficient to carry on provincial housekeeping. The Conservatives party on the other hand is led by Mr. Bennett of Calgary, who a few months ago gained an unenviable notoriety in the Oxford and London by-elections by his "Good and thunder" speeches on the state of affairs in the two, now provinces of the West over the "autocratic" bills. Now I think it will be admitted by our Conservative friends that Bennett came out of that, eastern political fiasco a discredited politician of the grapple type which among hunters is known as the great stretcher. Eastern people were led to believe from Mr. Bennett's speech the West was on the verge of rebellion over the autonomy bills which we know was not the case. Now let us look at the stand he takes on the "school clause" of the autonomy bill. As far as I can make out he was a member of the late Territorial Assembly which in 1901 enacted this ordinance or clause and upon which the Ontario Government set its seal of approval. If this ordinance or clause enacted in 1901, was acceptable to the people up to 1965 and also acceptable to Mr. Bennett, and his party why is it not acceptable now? The conclusion is this that it takes Mr. Bennett and his party four years to find out the difference between good and bad legislation and that if such a leader, premier, chaos, confusion and uncertainty would "run riot" in the management of our provincial affairs. I would therefore advise all electors to vote for Premier Rutherford who stands for peace, economy and progress, rather than Mr. Bennett whose policy is contention, turmoil and destruction.

SOLDIERS AND MOBSFIGHT IN RUSSIAN CITIES*Count Witte Has an Unenviable Job Controlling the Whirlwind

St. Petersburg, Nov. 3.—Though yesterday passed in comparative quiet here and at Moscow, despatches from all parts of the empire report disorders in many cities, with a heavy total of dead and wounded. The people, while celebrating their new-found freedom were in many instances set upon by Cossacks and police, while in other localities the spirit of mob violence broke forth in the lower elements of the population, and they gave themselves up to pillage and destruction. The most serious disorders apparently occurred at Odessa, where hundreds of persons are reported to have been killed or wounded and where the rioting momentarily is expected to flare out into a repetition of the slaughter of last July, and at Kazan, where a three days' reign of terror ended only by the retirement of all Cossacks to their barracks. A deplorable feature of the news from the interior is that anti-Jewish uprisings have occurred in many places, rioters sack their stores, clubbing the members of the race, and in some cases resorting to the torch. The attacks on the crowds are reported to be in most cases the work of Cossacks who were let loose upon the people without direction or authority. In St. Petersburg yesterday Gen. Treppoff, in accordance with his announcement of the previous night, prevented the resumption of revolutionary demonstrations by having the crowds dispersed whenever and wherever they gathered. Kazan Place and the Nevsky Prospect were several times cleared by Cossacks and the crowds were driven from the vicinity of the university with whips and flats of sabres. Gen. Treppoff was aided by the weather, which was cold and rainy, and which kept many persons off the street. Count Witte's task in securing a fair trial for the new experiment in constitutionalism is a most difficult one. He is disappointed at not securing the support of the Liberals, on whose co-operation he counted. Many of these are holding aloof and seem rather to enjoy the predicament in which the new premier finds himself.

Count Witte is doing his utmost to meet the chief objections against the new regime. In addition to the proposed amnesty to political prisoners, the count offering a deputation of editors who called on him to demand the abolition of censorship regulations the amusing explanation that in the hurry of writing the manifesto the words "liberty of the press" were inadvertently omitted and that the omission had not been noticed until the complaint was made. The official gazette formally announces that the term "liberty of speech" is to be interpreted as including the press.

Against the demand for the removal of Gen. Treppoff, Count Witte, however, is inflexible. He informed a delegation of the strike committee which called on him yesterday to demand the release of their imprisoned comrades and the removal of Gen. Treppoff, that it would be madness for him to dismiss the only man capable of maintaining order in the city. The strike committee decided to call off the St. Petersburg industrial strike at noon on Friday next. The St. Petersburg railroad men have refused to continue to strike. No newspapers will be issued today, and probably not for some days yet. The printers have determined to work only for the journals which refused to submit themselves to the censorship regulations. The publishers' associations have met this determination by resolving to disregard hereafter all circulars issued by the censor, and to print what they please.

Meanwhile the Socialists and Revolutionaries who believe they have the government swamped are bending their efforts to precipitate a catastrophe from which they hope a Socialist republic will emerge.

BUTCHERY AT KAZAN

Kazan, Oct. 30.—(delayed in transmission).—Terrible deeds of plunder and violence on the part of the police and troops commenced here Oct. 28. They were begun late at night when there were hardly any persons on the streets except the police and Cossacks, and continued throughout the whole of the next day and night. It seemed as if the police and Cossacks were let loose on the main street without plan, object or command. Shops were pillaged, but appeals to the authorities by the proprietors of these were unanswered. A private residence and the district court were fired upon, and the troops even shot at windows that were lighted up. The slightest protest, such as the lighting of a match was sufficient to cause firing, while peaceable persons who were promulgating the streets were fired upon and many of them killed or injured. There were signs of butchery here in one street where the snow was red with immense pools of blood. The population is indignant and even in the most conservative quarters rage is expressed. The members of the municipal council went to the governor, who informed them that the chief of police had resigned. The governor had instituted an inquiry into the affair. The Cossacks and other troops are now confined to barracks. The municipal authorities have been empowered to form a militia. Persons who were under arrest have been liberated. A great crowd today removed the arms from in front of the police bureau and took them to the municipal building.

Kazan, Nov. 2.—Further details of Tuesday's massacre increase the feeling of horror. The police and Cossacks were seemingly without any authority turned loose upon the people in the main street. School children were among the wounded. During the night the Cossacks and police broke into and gutted a number of stores. Some police and Cossacks pocketing from entering his establishment was threatened by a police captain with death. The fatalities were larger than at first reported.

It was a lawyer named Rattner who cut the emperor's portrait from its frame, hacked out the face, put his head through the opening and harnessed the mob from the balcony of the town hall. Yesterday a band of workmen invaded Rattner's house and tore him to pieces.

Jew baiting started at midnight and continued until morning. Strong patrols passed frequently but they looked smilingly on and gave no help. Some hours later Cossacks arrived but they did nothing to protect the property of the shopkeepers. I saw some police and Cossacks pocketing part of the plunder. Some of the soldiers were arrested for stealing. Persons were seen carrying bundles of stolen stuff without interference. Later on vigilance committees were organized and made them disgorge their plunder. At six o'clock notwithstanding the deluge of rain the looting was resumed. The Jews fired from the balconies of their houses and the troops and on the processions of loyalists, the soldiers returning the fire. The residences and offices of many wealthy Jews were wrecked. The Jews threatened to massacre the Christians today. A despatch to a news agency from Odessa, describing the city as having experienced a dreadful day, the defenseless populace being at the mercy of a howling and armed rabble of 500 men calling themselves loyalists, and led by disguised policemen and their wretched dupes.

The despatch says: "The Jews made a stout resistance and their successful bravery entailed lamentable sacrifices. It is impossible to ascertain the casualties, but rumor puts the number of killed or wounded as high as 2,000, many by bombs which the men used wholesale. Not until late at night when the murderous work had gone unchecked for hours, were the troops brought out and cordons placed around the Jewish quarters and quiet somewhat restored. It is reported that the casualties will reach 1,000, but it is impossible to verify this report. The first bomb thrown killed 15 and injured 40. Within 15 minutes eight others were killed nearly on the same spot. The Jews are said to be the only persons who have resorted to the throwing of bombs.

Finnish Diet Has Control of Budget and Russification Policy Must Stop

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The whole structure of autocracy is falling and the Emperor no longer resists. The memorable week which witnessed the abdication of absolutism before a political strike extending throughout the Empire and reducing the Government to impotency and the birth of a new regime amid scenes of bloodshed and war, ends with the complete surrender to the aspirations of the Finns. Last week the Finlanders struck and tied up the railroads over which the troops could be dispatched and compelled the Emperor's Senate to resign. They organized a militia, drove out the gendarmes and demanded the obliteration of the whole Russification policy. The situation was so threatening that the government turned the guns of the warships and forts on Helsinki. Eventually the Czar and Witte signed a manifesto not only conceding the diet, but giving it control of the budget and authorizing universal suffrage. Another manifesto abrogates military and Russification laws. These have been sent by fast torpedo boats to Helsinki.

MR. BENNETT VS THE WORKING MAN

Previous to the 19th April, 1900, the following section appeared in the Ordinance in reference to the eight-hour day for coal miners:

Section 4.—No person shall be employed underground in any coal mine in the Territories for more than eight hours in every twenty-four hours, exclusive of the time taken in ascending and descending from the mine.

One would imagine that such a section in the interests of the coal miners would commend itself to the men in this country who had the interests of the working man at heart. It did not, however, commend itself to the sound judgment of the lever of human kind, Mr. R. H. Bennett, and because of that, he introduced a resolution to the Assembly which wiped out that section of the Ordinance, and repealed the miner's eight-hour day.

Mr. Bennett delivered a speech in the Assembly in connection with the repeal of the eight-hour day, in which a side-light is thrown on the character of that would-be statesman in so far as the working man is concerned. Following are some of the gems of thought that fell from his lips on the occasion:

"He did not think that at this period of industrial development it was necessary to show that mining was a dangerous occupation—more dangerous than many others."

"He could not find any statistics to show that mining was a dangerous occupation—more dangerous than many others."

"All of which must have been very pleasant to the capitalists whom Mr. Bennett was serving on that occasion. Dr. Develer, a member of the House of Commons, in the following terms:

"Why did the Hon. member for Calgary take such an interest in the question now? He knew that the Hon. gentleman was one of the fraternity that were supposed to make black appear white, and rouge appear honest men. Of course he did not wish to insinuate that the Hon. gentleman received any fee, or remuneration, or refreshment, but it was a fact generally known that the Hon. gentleman was the legal adviser of one of the coal companies."

That was pretty hot shot from so good tempered a man as the genial doctor from Lethbridge, but, when he produced a petition signed by 350 miners from his constituency dis-proving of Mr. Bennett's tinkering with the mining regulations, it showed that the doctor was certainly the defender of the rights of the working man. The conclusion of Doctor Develer's address was:

"There are two sides to the question, capital and labor. Capital had enough friends because it could buy them, but labor had to trust to their sympathy."

This makes a total amount of 7805 for the week.

COR PROGRESS

The C. N. R. rail head is now only a mile from Fort Saskatchewan. There has been some delay in getting the steel, but the men are laying an average of three miles per day, and will probably reach the Port by tomorrow night. The bridge at the Port is not quite complete. There are twelve bents to raise for and a pony deck to put in place. It will, however, be ready for the steel when it arrives, although not strong enough for heavy traffic. The work is progressing as rapidly as possible, and there is every likelihood that the railway will enter Edmonton in two weeks.

STRATHCONA NEWS

Strathcona Nov. 4th, 1905.

Mr. Chaffin has just come to town from Vancouver, B.C. He reports business brisk and wages good in the Pacific Province, but that it was very hard for a laboring man to become a land holder there, hence he has come to look over the country with a view to locate.

A party of three young men are registered at the Royal, Mr. C. J. Kirk, Des Moines, Iowa, C. W. Church, Kansas, and Fred Todd, Toronto. They have on Monday for the hills, west of Beaver Lake to spend a part of the winter in their favorite pastime, hunting, trapping and prospecting for suitable locations.

Thomas Stewart gave a dance last night, to his many friends. Mr. Stewart has built a fine new house this year in the southern part of the town.

Mr. McClure, wife of the manager of the Elevated Tank Co.'s staff, is in town.

Mr. Shock of Spokane is at the Alberts. He is suffering from a severe attack of lumbago and found himself unable to accompany his friends who have just gone prospecting for land near Beaver Lake.

Mr. Baugh, a large land holder near Beaver Lake, who is engaged in farming and ranching, is in town arranging for material for further improvements on his farm. He is pores thrashing about done and the yield very good. He states also that the homesteaders are all taken up in his neighborhood, and thinks there are good prospects in the near future for the Baugh settlement on the advent of new railroads.

Mr. Mulholland, organizer of the Royal Templars of Temperance of Toronto, is in town again. He reports progress and success in his work in this western country.

Mr. Descon, of Toronto, who was with Hon. H. R. Emmerson in his late tour through the West, in a conversation with one of our citizens stated that he was delighted with our country and had not seen a foot of bad land west of Winnipeg and was amazed at the vast possibilities of the West and of the great tide of immigration coming our way.

The Cream Separator that is the Cheapest in the End.

There are some folks who are everlastingly trying to get "something for nothing." They buy a wagon at a "bargain" price because the agent says it's "just as good." And then, after a few months, when the tires and spokes have all loosened up, they curs the wagon.

Price not the only difference. It's the same way with cream separators. You can buy many other separators for less money than the U. S. Cream Separator sells for, but before you've finished paying for the experiment you'll find price isn't the only difference. The cheaper separators won't get out of adjustment because built of cheaper material by inferior manufacturing methods; they consume twice the necessary amount of oil; they have a bowl that will not run true, and do not skim clean. The repairs in the first few years would pay the difference for the U. S. Cream Separator.

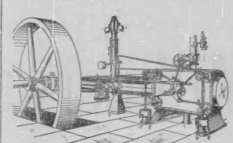

Durability is important. The U. S. Cream Separator has stood the test of time. Many of them have been in use for 10 years, and cost less than a dollar for repairs. They run as clean as new, and have a simple, enclosed gear, and a convenient low supply can.

The Vermont Farm Machine Co., of Bellows Falls, Vt., have printed in a handsome booklet a few of the thousands of letters from satisfied users of the U. S. Cream Separator. This booklet will save you money when you buy a separator, and a post card will bring it to you.

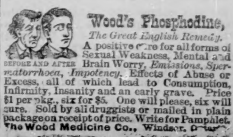

To insure prompt deliveries and to save freight charges for their Canadian customers, they ship from their warehouses at Montreal, Sherbrooke, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, but all letters should be addressed to Bellows Falls, Vt.

G. T. P. PRESIDENT OUTLINES G. T. P. FUTURE

At the semi-annual meeting of the Grand Trunk shareholders in London, Eng., a few days ago, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, who presided, made the following address on the Grand Trunk Pacific and its future:

Sir Charles read an extract from a recent speech made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier as to the promising prospects of the western portion of Canada, and concluding, said that it was into the very heart of that favored land that the Grand Trunk Railway, by means of its affiliated and dependent company, the Grand Trunk Pacific, was about to penetrate under conditions of great advantage. When the question of this new undertaking was first brought before them it was anticipated that the distance to be traversed from New Brunswick to the Pacific would be 3,400 miles, and it was thought at the time that the eastern portion, from Winnipeg to the Atlantic, which would be constructed by the Canadian Government, would be about 1,900 miles. The surveys which have been made, of the western portion, the company's portion, from Winnipeg to the Pacific, seemed to show that the original estimate of 1,500 miles would very likely be extended by 250 miles. The figures so far as the board has been able to obtain them from the surveys, which were virtually completed over a great portion of the distance, gave the mileage from Winnipeg to Edmonton as 775 miles, from Edmonton west to what their officials described as the eastern section of the mountain, running down to the prairie, as 561 miles, and the balance of the mountain section as 418 miles, making a total of 1,754 miles. That, of course, was irrespective of the Lake Superior branch of about 293 miles. The point of departure at Lake Superior was Fort William. There they had acquired, through the co-operation of the Government, 1,600 acres of valuable land used hitherto as an Indian reserve, for the purpose of their terminus. That land was to be acquired on favorable terms, and the shareholders would be glad to hear that the municipality of Fort William had contributed $300,000 towards the company's expenses in that respect, besides exempting them from municipal taxation for fifteen years and granting them other privileges. Within the last few weeks a contract had been entered into with an important Canadian firm for the building of the road from Fort William to the point of intersection with the main line. The work would be commenced immediately and proceeded with expeditiously. Then, starting from Winnipeg, they would build as quickly as they could, in a bee line to Edmonton—775 miles. They had commenced operations about 35 miles west of Winnipeg, at a place called Portage la Prairie. A contract had been concluded with other eminent Canadian firms for the construction of 275 miles of line to a place called Touchwood Hills, in the prairie. At Winnipeg itself, which was a point of first importance to the Grand Trunk Pacific, they were in negotiation for securing the necessary terminus. It might be possible to come to an arrangement with some other important corporation, but if not, they would proceed independently. Winnipeg was a most important point for the company. The city had now become the third in the way of population in Canada. Passing across the prairie the line would be hoped in a reasonable time, reach Edmonton, for which they might predict, he believed, almost as great a future as that which was certain to come to Winnipeg. He believed that Winnipeg and Edmonton would be the two great cities of the west in the future.

Passing over, for the moment, the mountain section of the new line, which did not require to be so rapidly proceeded with as the portion through the wheat districts, they arrived at the Pacific, where he did not think it had yet been publicly announced—they had selected as the site for their terminus a most eligible port, which was known as Kal-En, about twenty-five miles south of Fort Simpson, which, they would remember, was spoken of originally as the possible terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. The company's officers had succeeded in acquiring there, upon extremely easy terms, crown lands amounting to 10,000 acres, and he had no doubt that the time would come when it would rival in importance the principal ports on the Pacific coast. The policy adopted in building some of the American railways in the past was to push the road forward without much regard to the gradients. They were proceeding with the Grand Trunk Pacific railway on a different plan. It had been determined to make this road as perfect as possible from the commencement, and therefore on the prairie section the maximum gradients were to be four-tenths of one per cent., or about 22 feet to a mile, while over the mountain section they were not to exceed one per cent., of 53 feet in a mile. The consequence of this would be, he thought, that the directors would not have to be coming perpetually to the stockholders to ask for money in order to improve the gradients. A contract had also been entered into with the Canadian Car company, lately established close to the railway at Montreal, for the supply of the whole of the car equipment of the new company. The contract was for 12,000 freight cars and 250 passenger cars to be delivered beginning in 1906, in the course of the next five years, and the total amount of the contract was about $2,000,000. The first time he mentioned this project to the stockholders—for it was then out a project—was only two and a half years ago and the legislation connected with it had only been done in that period—939 miles had been surveyed, the whole of the financial arrangements had been made and the work of construction was already in progress.

POLITICAL POINTERS

The "Machine" is in full swing in Alberta—the "machine" of the party of discord.

For weeks back the Discard Party press has been ringing the changes on the "machine" and was endeavoring to present the idea that the Liberal party at Ottawa—or as they put it, from Quebec—was putting in great efforts to win Alberta at the coming elections.

This cry was raised to hide contemplated crooked business on the part of the purists of the Party of Discard, and now the cat is out of the bag, and we know where the "machine" has been working, how it worked, and who the master machinist is.

It looked for weeks past as if the Party of Progress, under Premier Rutherford would have a walk over in a number of the constituencies, and after Bennett's "break" in Calgary on the road allowance question, absolute ruin stared the Discard Party in the face. So many constituencies gave evidence of elections by acclamation for the Government that something had to be done.

At this stage of the game the "machine" rose to the occasion. Bennett was sent south where he could do neither good nor harm, and the boss mechanic, W. L. Walsh, organizer for the Alberta Conservative Association, the man who works the lever of the "machine," assumed full control.

A large quantity of "ile" for juggling purposes was secured and the machinist started in to put the "machine" in working order. The machinery was thoroughly overhauled, and then the wheels were put in motion.

When the "machine" struck Wetaskiwin, it was found that there was every probability of Mr. Rosenroll being elected by acclamation. Up to that time none seemed anxious to contest the constituency. The machinist produced the "ile," lubricated the machine, and at the eleventh hour a candidate appeared.

At Strathcona there was a re-election of the proceedings. If Premier Rutherford was elected by acclamation he would then be free to give his valuable services to the other parts of the riding. The boss appeared on the scene, the "ile" was again produced, and the "machine" once more provided a victim for sacrifice.

The next stopping place was Edmonton. For some time past—ever since Mr. Griesbach's "break" on the school question, when he threatened to keep up the agitation until "the last vestige of religion was driven from the schools"—things political for the Party of Discard had not been going very well.

The mechanic arrived Monday last the "ile" was produced, the rust was rubbed off the lost "machine," and the wheels began to move. Mr. Griesbach's spine was stiffened, and across the top of the columns on the first page of the party journal appeared the assurance "Griesbach in the fight to the finish."

Tuesday opened bright and clear. The mechanic was up betimes and, like the early bird, was looking for worms. After a hustle around town, seeing that the local "machine" was properly lubricated, he and Mr. Lavoie started for St. Albert. There no Conservative candidate could be found to face the music, "ile" or no "ile," and the boss mechanic had his eighteen mile drive for his trouble.

But, it seems, it was not because the boss mechanic did not do his level best to make the "machine" work, by an attempt at a liberal use of "ile." A story comes from St. Albert that a gentleman named Maloney was within easy reach of the "ile." It is stated that Mr. Maloney says openly that he was approached by the "machine" to run as a candidate, and was offered his deposit and $1,000 for running expenses during the contest and that he refused to act in the transaction.

If that story be true, and there is no reason to doubt it, it gives an insight into the working of the "machine" between Calgary and St. Albert in the past few days. It also explains why it was that the Calgary Herald was shouting "machine," "machine" so vociferously of late, so that the crooked work of its own party could be covered up.

"When the devil was sick, the devil a saint would be."

"When the devil was well, the devil a saint was he."

NORTHERN OIL FIELD

MUCH PROSPECTING WORK DONE

Winnipeg Man Returns with Hopeful Reports from the Athabasca Oil Co's Property

J. Bennett of Winnipeg, returned on Saturday from the property of the Athabasca Oil Co. on the lower reaches of the Athabasca river and gave to a Bulletin representative an account of the history and prospects of the development work being done there.

Early in the summer a party under Mr. A. von Hammerstein, well known in Edmonton, had been sent to begin work on the claims where good indications of petroleum had been found some time previously. They took with them some machinery and a gasoline launch to be used on the river for the purpose of prospecting. The trip to McMurray was made without mishap.

Some time passed, and Hammerstein was apparently making good progress. He made reports and sent photographs of the claims to the company. No oil appeared, however, and in July Mr. Bonnetto, a director of the company, was appointed to go to McMurray, and superintend the work and look after financial matters. Mr. Bonnetto left Edmonton with a party of five men, on July 20th. Two of the men, Sam Kersey and Neil Cameron, were practical oil men from Petrolia. When Bonnetto reached the claims at McMurray, he says he found nothing had been done with the drilling and that Hammerstein had not the proper appliances for boring to a great depth. Work was carried on with renewed vigor under his supervision, however, and a depth of 512 feet was reached, when the work had to cease, for lack of appliances to go deeper. No oil was struck, but there were excellent indications of petroleum. Natural gas was discovered and burned for some time. Good asphalt was also discovered.

The party then started on the homeward journey. It had been their intention to make the trip up the river, from McMurray to the Landing in the launch. But this was a different story. In the summer, when the river was at a high water mark, no difficulty had been encountered in taking the launch down the river and through the rapids. But when the river was low to bring the launch up the river was almost impossible and four days were required to get up the rapids.

At this juncture Hammerstein left the party, through ill feeling that had arisen, and Bonnetto and his men were left to their own resources, with the launch, 230 miles from the Landing. The party packed their blankets and what provisions they had, left the launch and started out to walk the 230 miles. In two weeks time they arrived at the Landing. From there to Edmonton the party came by stage, arriving in the city on Saturday morning.

Talking about petroleum, Mr. Bonnetto says that the prospects are exceedingly bright for developing rich oil veins at McMurray, where there is every indication that petroleum can be obtained in crude form. James West, a Government inspector, came down to McMurray from Lesser Slave Lake, and looked over the claims of the company. He expressed his opinion that there was not the least doubt that good veins could be found there. It is the intention of the company to take larger machinery out to McMurray early next season, and make several borings.

The Campaign

Oliver and Cross speak in the rink tonight.

Mr. R. B. Bennett had "pressing business" elsewhere and did not appear at the Calgary meeting on Saturday evening.

The Provincial Conservative organizer, says that in only one constituency (St. Albert) is there no Conservative candidate. He should know.

Enthusiastic meetings were held by J. R. Boyle at Cruzeot on Thursday night and at St. Eugene on Friday night. Tonight Mr. Boyle will speak at Sunnyside.

A splendid meeting was held in Agri- colists school house last week in the interests of Frank Walker, Liberal candidate for Victoria. The speakers were N. D. Mills, of Strathcona and J. McLenan. There were no Opposition speakers present, and the sentiment was strong for the Government.

Everything is in readiness for the big meeting in the "Thistle" rink tonight. Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, and Hon. C. W. Cross, Attorney General for Alberta will deliver addresses. A large number of seats have been already reserved for the ladies and their escorts, and additional stoves have been secured so that the hall will be comfortable. The speeches will be interspersed with songs and music. Everybody welcome.
